

RIBA

The RIBA has been championing the bravest and the best in architectural practice for an astounding 170 years. A huge part of what we do is about helping people find the right architect for their unique project - and helping everyone involved to achieve outstanding results that all can celebrate. Buildings of quality and ingenuity that will stand the test of time.

This presentation tells you a little bit more about just three of the services we offer that might help you make those crucial connections.

▶ Client Design Adviser

Client Design Adviser

‘I have benefited enormously from my Client Design Advisor and can’t recommend her highly enough! With no previous experience of capital projects or the construction sector, in hindsight it would have been even more beneficial if I had appointed her at a much earlier stage of my project.’

Client Design Adviser

What, exactly, are your current building needs – new-build, refurbishment, extension? How can you be certain of achieving best value while ensuring future-proof, sustainable results? An RIBA Client Design Advisor could save you untold expense and effort by helping you to define your overall buildings strategy - then bring certainty and control to any project, big or small.

Client Design Adviser

As a totally impartial professional, an RIBA Client Design Advisor will:

- ▶ Explore high-level options for meeting your business or strategic need.
- ▶ Carry out strategic risk assessments of the project.
- ▶ Identify lessons learned from previous experience of similar projects.
- ▶ Define an agreed set of project outcomes.
- ▶ Consult key stakeholders to identify significant project issues.

Client Design Adviser

An RIBA Client Design Advisor will also:

- ▶ Prepare feasibility studies and a strategic business case for the project.
- ▶ Help set a budget and propose a funding strategy.
- ▶ Prepare the outline business case.
- ▶ Prepare a full project brief, output specification and sustainability goals.
- ▶ Apply for planning permissions.
- ▶ Manage the invitation and evaluation of tenders.
- ▶ Check budgets, design proposals, construction details and project documentation.

Client Design Adviser

The high-level, expert advice and support of an RIBA Client Design Advisor can be crucial in establishing a strong, sound framework for your project. The Office of Government Commerce recommends the appointment of an independent client advisor (such as an RIBA Client Design Advisor) prior to that of a project manager.

Client Design Adviser

Selected from the RIBA for their procurement expertise, design experience and business knowledge, an RIBA Client Design Advisor provides a single, effective interface with the design team and other professionals - working closely with you to understand your business objectives and articulating your needs with absolute clarity and consistency.

Client Design Adviser

An RIBA Client Design Advisor is there to protect your best interests and investment, every step of the way. From a project's earliest inception through to completion - and well into the future.

Competitions

‘We wanted to refurbish a badly run-down, visually fragmented public square in Oxford city centre. It was a considerable design challenge and a design competition was felt to be an ideal way to draw on a wide range of ideas and expertise. The RIBA gave a superb, professional service which was excellent value for money.’

Fiona Bartholomew, Principal Planning Officer,
Oxford City Council

Competitions

Nominations

The service really couldn't be simpler. You provide the RIBA with details of your project – whatever its scope – and we'll draw up a ready-made shortlist drawn from a database of 4000 of RIBA Chartered Practices. All will be selected to match your project specification and provide you with a choice of the most talented and experienced in the profession.

Nominations

Your list will give relevant details of all the practices nominated and is sent with a free RIBA guide which gives a wealth of advice on how to select, appoint and work with your architect. Making sure that you can find the architect who can best provide you with the service that you require.

Nominations

It's all about marrying your vision with the expertise that can bring it fully to life. Let the RIBA Nomination Service help you make the you the perfect match.
