

Friday, December 4th

12.00-14.00

Registration and Coffee,
Embassy of Argentina 65 Brook St.
W1 K4AH

14.00 -14.30

Opening Comments

Ambassador Alicia Castro

Mark Devenney (CAPPE, University of Brighton)

14.30 – 16.00

Oliver Marchart, (Kunstakademie, Dusseldorf)

Laclau's Political Ontology

Nancy Fraser, (New School)

Thinking Antagonism: On the Political Contradictions of Financial Capital (BY SKYPE)

16.30 – 18.00

Letitia Sabsay (LSE)

The Rhetorical Foundations of Society

Lasse Thomassen (Birkbeck)

Hegemony and Socialist Strategy 30 years after: three research agendas

9.30 - 11:00

Jean-Claude Monod (CNRS)

The part and the whole: metaphor and metonymy in the rhetorical construction of the People

Yannis Stavrakakis (Thessaloniki)

Theorising populism in light of the Greek Financial Crisis

11:30-13:00

Rada Iveković (Paris)

Around the somewhat meditative rhetoric of Ernesto Laclau

Ricardo Camargo (Universidad de Chile)

Articulation and Assault in Laclau's Politics

13.00-14.00

LUNCH

14.00-15.30

Paula Biglieri (University of Buenos Aires)

Populism and Emancipation

Mark Devenney (University of Brighton),

The New Hegemony: Resisting Financial and Actuarial Capital

16.00-17.30

Fabienne Brugère (Université Paris 8)

Is Feminism Populism ?

Jeremy Gilbert (Uni. of East London)

What is a demand? The subject of politics in